

English Test N° 3

There are many homeless and needy people who are suffering from hunger and diseases in our country. Giving a helping hand to needy persons is not only a responsibility, but it's also an act of humanity. We can change their lives and give them a good will and happiness by showing them hospitality, love and a little of what we have. Being poor is just a life course that they face. This does not make them different or unwanted people at all. They are our brothers.

There are many charities and organizations that help the needy and homeless people in our society. They donate food, money and even build shelters when it is possible. In addition to this, we should create school food donation charity to provide the opportunity to teach students the value of food, good nutrition and a social behaviour model. Students will learn how to care about others and think how to make the world a better place to live in. If you involve children in choosing charities, you will instill a desire to share and serve that will last throughout their lives.

You should know and realize that even if you don't have much, you have enough to share with others.
